Event Details

This workshop brings about awareness among teenagers, about the emotions that students of that age generally faced in those years especially when it comes to love, attraction and friendship with opposite sex. Teenage year can be fun. This is the time when they learn to take a step towards their own independent and meet a lot of new and different people. However, this is also a time where they may be vulnerable to various sources of danger. For a large and increasing number of teenagers an unhealthy and sometimes even violent relationship with a person may be their everyday reality. Most of the times, they are unaware of what is happening to them and the consequences they may have to face later on. There may be a lot of confusion during this period of time. Every year, more and more students end up taking their lives due to misunderstandings in their relationship and low self-esteem. To avoid this from happening with institute girl students, Hon. Director Dr. Vaishali B. Patil madam conducted a one week workshop and address all such issues. This programme is meant to build self-confidence in students and help them see into the future with hope. This programme is unique by itself due to the fact that it has never been offered anywhere else.
